Job Summary

 THIS NOTICE IS ONLY OPEN TO INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES.

The announcement covers all applicable series, not just the ones above. The series above are the ones NASA has hired the most of over the last five years.

NASA, the world's leader in space and aeronautics is always seeking outstanding scientists, engineers, and other talented professionals to carry forward the great discovery process that its mission demands. Creativity - Ambition - Teamwork - A sense of Daring - and a Probing Mind - That's what it takes to join NASA, one of the best places to work in the Federal Government.

If you are an individual with a disability or disabilities, you may be eligible to apply for NASA positions even when there are no current vacancies or open announcements. The "Qualifications and Evaluation" tab of this announcement provides more information on eligibility.

The announcement covers more series than what is listed. If you apply to this announcement, you may be referred to positions for which you qualify if such positions are available within 90 days of your application. If you wish to receive further consideration, you must resubmit your application.

Use this notice to submit your resume to NASA for vacancies. You will be considered for appropriate vacancies in locations and at grades in which you express interest.

This announcement does not guarantee vacancies in specific jobs, grades, or locations. To maximize your employment opportunities, we strongly encourage you to apply for specific vacancies as they occur on USAJOBS

NASA uses the USAJobs resume as the basic application document. NASA limits resumes to the equivalent of about six typed pages, or approximately 22,000 characters (including spaces). You cannot complete the application process if your USAJobs resume is too long. More information about the NASA application process is also available under the "How to Apply" section of this announcement.

General Qualifications

To apply under this announcement, you must be an individual with a disability or disabilities.

If you are offered a position, you must be able to provide certification that you have a severe disability, are eligible for Schedule A appointment, and are able to perform the essential duties of the position with or without reasonable accommodation. The certification must also describe any needed reasonable accommodation. The certification may be documented in one of the following ways:

- 1) By a counselor at either a State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency or the Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Service of the Department of Veterans Affairs; OR
- 2) By a statement or letter on a physician's or medical professional's letterhead stationery from a licensed physician or medical professional certified by a State, the District of Columbia, or a U.S. territory to practice medicine; OR
- 3) By a statement, records, or letters from a Federal Government agency that issues or provides disability benefits, such as the Social Security Administration.

If you would like more information on your rights as an individual with a disability, consult the Federal Employment of People with Disabilities website at: Federal Employment of People with Disabilities Qualification requirements depend on the job being filled. You may review the qualification requirements at the following website: Qualification Standards

Many NASA positions have specific educational requirements, so we encourage you to provide a complete description of your educational achievements.

NASA determines qualifications based solely on information provided in your resume. We do not accept separate qualification statements, so we encourage you to ensure that your resume fully reflects your background and competencies.

Educational Qualifications

No text available

Requirements

U.S. citizenship is required.

How You Will Be Evaluated

Candidates will be evaluated on the competencies they possess that are directly related to the duties of the position being filled. A human resources specialist will validate the qualifications of those candidates eligible to be referred to the selecting official. Candidates should refer to NASA's Applicant Guide for assistance in developing a completed resume.

Benefits

NASA offers excellent benefit programs and competitive salaries. To learn more about pay and benefits at NASA, click HERE (<http://nasajobs.nasa.gov/benefits/benefits.htm> target=_blank).

Other Information

Any applicant tentatively selected for this position may be required to undergo a pre-employment background investigation.

As a condition of employment, male applicants born after December 31, 1959, must certify that they have registered with the Selective Service System, or are exempt from having to do so under the Selective Service Law.

U.S. citizenship is required.

Your USAJOBS account asks you to assign a name to each of your resumes. When you apply to a NASA position, we will show you the text of the resume you have submitted, but we do not maintain the name you have assigned to that resume. If you wish to keep track of that information, we recommend you make note of it at the time you apply.

How to Apply

Applications will be accepted through NASA's automated Staffing and Recruiting System (STARS). You may begin the process of submitting your resume by clicking on the 'Apply Online' link.

In order to be considered, you must submit a resume completed on the USAJOBS site. When completing your USAJOBS resume, please remember that NASA limits resumes to the equivalent of approximately SIX typed pages, or approximately 22,000 characters including spaces. You will NOT be allowed to complete the application process if your resume is too long or if your resume was uploaded to USAJobs from a second source.

Additionally, NASA does not accept documents attached through USAJobs' document attachment feature.

Once you submit your resume to NASA, you will be asked to complete a short series of additional questions. You must finish the entire process in order to have a complete application package and receive consideration. Your answers will not be saved unless you finish the entire application. You may edit a previously-submitted application, if the announcement is still open. For more information, see the Applicant Guide. (https://resume.nasa.gov/applicant\_guide.html target=_blank target=_blank) If you are unable to apply electronically for this position, submit your resume and supplemental questions to:

National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA),
Resume Operations Center, Mailstop: HS50,
Marshall Space Flight Center, AL 35812.

DO NOT submit your resume directly to the Center advertising this vacancy. Mailed resumes must be received by the close of business on the closing date of the announcement. Hard copy resumes requirements are provided at: Hard Copy Resume Requirements.

(<http://NASAjobs.NASA.gov/howtoapply/hardcopyresumes.htm> target=_blank target=_blank) If you are a first time applicant, we recommend that you review NASA's Applicant Guide.

(https://resume.nasa.gov/applicant\_guide.html target=_blank target=_blank) to ensure that you are providing a complete resume. Failure to submit the supplemental data and a resume that contains all of the required information may result in loss of consideration for positions in which you are interested.

Required Documents

NASA's application process has been specifically developed to ensure that we only ask you for the information we absolutely need to evaluate your qualifications and eligibility. In order to apply for this position, you only need to submit your resume and answer the screening questions and supplemental information. No additional documentation is accepted at the time of application. (For example you need not submit narrative KSA statements; they are not required and will not be evaluated.) In this way we allow you to focus on preparing a resume that best describes your background and abilities. For assistance in preparing your resume, consult the Applicant Guide. (https://resume.nasa.gov/applicant\_guide.html target=_blank target=_blank)

Nothing further is required until requested by the Human Resources Office. At that point, we may ask you to submit documentation to support statements made in your resume. For example, we may ask you to provide academic transcripts or proof of Federal employment status. If you are claiming veterans' preference, we may ask you to submit proof of veterans' preference (DD-214, and, if claiming 10-point preference, SF-15 plus proof required by that form). If you fail to provide the required documents within the stated time period, we may withdraw a job offer and/or remove you from further consideration.
